

Parramatta Family History Group Meeting

Saturday 2 September 2017 1.30 pm

Coach House
Hambledon Cottage corner
Hassall Street & Gregory Place, Parramatta

Everyone is welcome to the Presentation by

Sue Stenning

Using the National Archives in London

If you have Irish, Welsh or English ancestors, the National Archives in London is sure to have much of relevance to your family history. It holds more than 11 million documents created over 1,000 years, collected by UK central government departments and major courts of law. However its size can make it intimidating and difficult to use. Learn the tips about accessing the collection either on site or from home.

